INDEPENDENT 20TH CENTURY

Independent 20th Century Opens in September

Featuring new perspectives on both historically celebrated and under-recognized artists, Independent 20th Century will relocate this year to a Modernist landmark, the historic Marcel Breuer building at 945 Madison Avenue, the new headquarters of Sotheby's in New York. The fair will take place September 24th–27th. Save the dates and stay tuned for an announcement of participating galleries. And, for your summer reading, in the coming weeks Independent will begin publishing a series of Features with in-depth looks at some of the art, artists, and gallerists that will make the show an essential destination this fall.

Plan Your Visit

Traveling to New York to visit Independent 20th Century? The fall is an especially busy time and hotels in the city can fill up fast; this year the show overlaps with the general debate at the United Nations. Independent's partners at Turon Travel can help you book your lodging and find discounts, with hotel options sorted by price, amenities, and distance from the venue.

Read the Post-Fair Market Report

Independent successfully concluded its most recent edition on May 17th. Sales were brisk and hundreds of works of contemporary art were sold. An intriguing statistic: 60% of artworks sold this year went to first-time clients, a significant increase over last year's record of 47%. Want to know more? Independent publishes a Post-Fair Market Report, collecting and breaking down the data to provide a snapshot of the business at the show and a view onto current art market pricing trends. If you have not already received the Post-Fair Market Report in your inbox, you can sign up for Independent's Market Reports with the link below.

Online Viewing Platform Is Live Until June 15th

Don't miss the last opportunity to see the works on view at Independent last month. Independent's online viewing platform provides a comprehensive look at the art brought to the show by the 76 participating galleries from 34 countries, including available works. You can log on for an overview, dive into your favorite presentations, or learn about those you may have missed. The platform also offers selections of outstanding exhibitions chosen by some of New York's best collectors and curators. The viewing platform remains online until June 15th.
